Hillary for President

Dear Brendan,

There are two things in this world that I love more than anything else -- my family and politics. So you can imagine just how fired up I get when Hillary is on the stage debating the issues that matter to our country.

So here's an idea: why don't you and I share that excitement together during an upcoming debate. Hillary's campaign will pick three people -- each invited with a guest to watch one of the upcoming presidential debates with me. We'll sit down in front of a big TV with a big bowl of chips, watch the debate, and talk about the race. If you enter before the Sunday midnight deadline, you and a guest could be the ones to sit down with me to watch a presidential debate.

The debates are a great chance to see the kind of president Hillary will be: strong, informed, and ready to lead. But Hillary can't win without your help. And she needs it today more than ever.

We're at a critical moment in the campaign. The end-of-quarter deadline will be here in just a few days. After Sunday, September 30, Hillary's fundraising numbers will be compared to those of her opponents, and every dollar you contribute between now and Sunday will make a huge difference.

We've passed Labor Day, which means more people are paying attention to the election -- everything that happens between now and January is magnified. So there is no better time than right now to help Hillary win.

I'm excited about this idea because it involves three things I really enjoy: watching debates, watching Hillary run for president, and meeting her strongest supporters.

When I tell you I like watching Hillary debate, I mean it. You're talking to the man who stayed up until four in the morning on a trip through Africa just to catch one of her debates live. So if you want to watch a debate with me -- or if you just want to help Hillary win -- enter today, and you and your guest might join me for a debate soon.

Don't miss the deadline. Make a contribution today:

You can't just want change. You have to commit to it. Do you want every single American to have affordable, quality health care? Do you want to end the war in Iraq? Do you want the economy to work for all Americans again? Hillary's ready to change America, and that's why -- with your help - she's going to make such a great president.

Thank you so much for all your support. I'm really looking forward to this one.

Sincerely,

Bill Clinton

P.S. Don't forget -- that deadline is just a few days away, so please contribute today!
